Purpose of the Consent form:

Implementation Sciences International, Inc. (ISII) is conducting an ongoing collection of data and we invite you to participate. There are two reasons we would like your permission for ISII to collect, store, and view video recordings of sessions in which you will be participating: coaching therapists and monitoring fidelity.

Coaching therapists

ISII is providing training for therapists in GenerationPMTO. Videotaping individual sessions is an essential part of GenerationPMTO and allows ISII coaches to give specific feedback to therapists about their adherence to the core components of GenerationPMTO throughout the training process. Although the focus of the videotaping is the therapist, if you agree, clients (i.e., you and your child(ren)) will be in the video as well as the therapist to observe your reactions to the sessions.

Monitoring fidelity

Therapists using the GenerationPMTO model are reviewed periodically to ensure they are doing the model correctly. This is done by using a rating system called Fidelity of Implementation (FIMP). FIMP Raters, who are also experienced GenerationPMTO therapists, view selected therapy sessions to certify that therapists are doing this model correctly. The FIMP Raters also need regular testing to make sure they are able to do their job accurately. FIMP Raters are tested annually by scoring short segments of real therapy sessions using a coding system that evaluates the quality of the therapist's GenerationPMTO work with families. We are asking for your consent to allow short segments of therapy sessions in which you participated to be used for this purpose.

We use two separate databases for this work. Videos used for evaluating therapists' work are stored on the "ISII Portal" while videos used for the FIMP Raters are stored on "FIMP Central."

Procedures:

Your therapist previously agreed to be videotaped in therapy sessions for training purposes. Although the focus of the videotaping is the therapist, clients (i.e., you and your child(ren)) would also be in the video to observe you and your family's reactions to the therapy. We would like your permission for ISII to collect, store, and view video recordings of sessions in which you will be participating.

ISII will only use these video images for coaching, training, educational and research purposes. These video recordings will become the property of ISII. To ensure confidentiality, all information will be coded so that it cannot be associated with any individual's name. If the therapist is not employed by ISII, it will be the decision of the therapist or the therapist's agency whether they keep a copy of the video in their files after uploading to the ISII Portal.

Therapists will be asked to upload the video-recorded therapy sessions to the ISII Portal in order for ISII coaches to review their work as therapists. Then, short segments may be uploaded to the FIMP Central database for use by the FIMP Raters, to test their work as raters. More explanations for the two databases:

ISII Portal

Video recording of sessions is an essential part of GenerationPMTO and allows ISII Coaches to give specific feedback to therapists about their adherence to the core components of GenerationPMTO. The video recordings will be stored on a web-accessible, secure, password-protected server as well as on backup drives housed onsite. This password-protected online database, referred to as the "ISII Portal," is the property of ISII and meets current HIPAA standards for security and confidentiality. It is only accessible to authorized ISII staff.

FIMP Central

We are also requesting your permission to use short segments of some sessions for the purposes of ensuring the quality of GenerationPMTO treatment as evaluated by trained FIMP Raters.

The FIMP Raters will review selected 10-15 minute segments of the videotaped sessions to rate the sessions. Some sessions are selected to make sure the FIMP Raters are scoring the sessions accurately in terms of the model and their rating of therapists' work.

The video segments will be stored and available for the FIMP Raters to view in an electronically secure online location called "FIMP Central." This password-protected online database is the property of ISII and meets current HIPAA standards for security and confidentiality. It is only accessible to authorized FIMP Rater teams.
